"OUR LIVES BEGIN TO END THE DAY WE BECOME SILENT ABOUT THINGS THAT MATTER."
"All labor has dignity, and it is important and should be understood with painstaking exactness."

"I have a dream that my four little children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin, but by the content of their character."

"Faith begins the first step when you don't see the whole staircase."

"An individual has not started living until he has seen the narrow confines of his individualistic concerns in the broader context of all humanity."

MIRCI

The bulletin board is a collage of African American history and culture. It features several prominent quotes and photos:

- Top Left: A quote about labor: "All labor has dignity, and it is important and should be understood with painstaking exactness."
- Top Center: Martin Luther King Jr.'s "I have a dream" speech excerpt: "I have a dream that my four little children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin, but by the content of their character."
- Top Right: A quote about faith: "Faith begins the first step when you don't see the whole staircase."
- Center: A large photo of Martin Luther King Jr. with a quote: "No one really knows why they are alive until they know what they'd die for."
- Right Side: A quote from Rosa Parks: "People always say that I didn't give up my seat because I was tired, but that isn't true... No, the only tired I was, was tired of giving in."
- Bottom Right: A quote: "In the end, we will remember not the words of our enemies, but the silence of our friends." and another: "Our lives begin to end the day we become silent about things that matter."
- Other Figures: Photos and quotes for Venus Williams, Serena Williams, Michelle Obama, and Barack Obama are also present.

At the Friendship Center, living skills are vital to ensure our clients who are transitioning from homelessness are equipped with basic skills needed to live as successfully as possible.

Thank you, Tashema Utsey, for everything you do as Friendship Center Coordinator.
